James Hasslacher, defending, said McGuire was an intelligent man who had gone to university aged 16, but failed to "cope with the pressure of living up to the ability he had".

The preliminary finding was released prematurely and failed to correct for lead time bias and for different forms of HRT used historically.

This perspective, which stages authority in order to subvert it through the sign for that authority, recurs in much of John Donne's verse.

Women on norethindrone acetate who have risk factors for arterial vascular disease (e.g., hypertension,